Consider a Donor-Advised Fund for Charitable Giving

Whether you choose to donate cash, stock or other appreciated assets, a Donor-Advised Fund, established at the Ashland County Community Foundation, is a simple and efficient way to make a donation quickly and be eligible for a tax deduction this year.

Rather than scrambling to decide where to give, and writing out checks or transferring stock to multiple charities, you can make a single donation to ACCF to establish a Donor-Advised Fund, by the December 31st deadline. Then, you're able to support any IRS-qualified charity on the timetable that best suits you, and the fund can be invested for potential growth, allowing even more dollars to eventually pass to charity.

This is a great strategy for people who may be thinking about retirement. By front-loading a Donor-Advised Fund, while you're still in high income-earning years, you'll be able to get both additional tax-savings when you need them—and pre-fund your charitable giving during retirement, when income may be lower.
